AIR MAIL BILL APPROVED; TO GO TO CONGRESSHouse Committee Puts
O. K. on Administration Measure

Washington, April 23—(AP)—The House Postoffice committee today approved the administration's temporary air mail bill authorizing the Postmaster General to make one-year contracts and calling for creation of a special commission to make a broad survey and recommended a general aviation policy.

The Rules committee will take up the bill tomorrow and give it privileged status to rush its passage.

The bill would set the air mail postage rate at 5 cents an ounce, and provide that in the temporary one-year contracts the rate of payment shall not exceed 35 cents per airplane mile for loads not over 300 pounds. Loads above that total would be paid for at the rate of one-tenth of the base figure for each additional 100 pounds of mail.

To Keep Books Open

The measure also would allow companies prosecuting claims against the government to bid for and carry mail, but require the successful bidders to keep their books open to Postoffice Department inspection.

It would authorize the Secretary of Commerce to prescribe safety methods for airmail lines, and stipulates that the pay to pilots, mechanics and laborers shall be not less than that paid in 1933.

The special commission would be appointed by the President—three Senators, three House members and as many other persons as the President chose to name.

After a thorough survey, this commission not later than January 30, 1935, would submit its recommendations to Congress.

Contractors who obtained one-year contracts could not transfer them to any other persons, save with the consent of the Postmaster General. For one year the bill would limit the aggregate of air mail lines to 29,000 miles and schedules to 40,000 airplane-miles per year.

Penalties Provided

Anyone who entered into an agreement which might prevent free competitive bidding for the contracts could be fined $10,000 and imprisoned for five years.

A similar penalty, plus forfeiture of the contract, could be assessed anyone who violated any provision of the law.

Meanwhile, Senator Austin (R., Va.) claiming that the air mail bill now being considered by the Senate would teach "the right of the government to rob its citizens," announced he would offer a substitute which would restore all cancelled contracts to their former holders pending an investigation by the presidential commission.

Predicting "danger ahead" if the government should continue along its present course in handling the air mail problem, Austin told the Senate the bill before it would "perpetuate the smirching of the reputations of government officials and aviation men without trial."

Death Not Unexpected

Mr. Alexander's death, which was chronicled in Saturday's Telegraph, was not unexpected, as he had been gravely ill for several days, but his news was a great shock to this city and brings great sadness to countless friends. His death is a great loss to Dixon.

Mr. Alexander had apparently been in good health until a few weeks ago. He went to Rochester recently and submitted to an operation at the Mayo Clinic and was believed to be making at least a temporary recovery when a relapse occurred last week, terminating in death Saturday afternoon. The body was brought to Byron yesterday morning, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John Alexander of Omaha and by ambulance to Dixon and Mrs. E. D. Alexander was driven down from Rochester yesterday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. Russell Tabor. Mrs. Tabor is a daughter.

A sister of Mr. Alexander, Mrs. Charles Martelli of Santa Monica, California, has been notified but it is not believed that she can be here for the services.

STRIKES TODAY

Scenes of Latest
Labor Troubles

(By The Associated Press.)

Strike orders affecting 10,000 workers in three automobile plants darkened the nation's industrial picture today.

Calls were issued yesterday for strikes at the Fisher body factory at Cleveland where 7,000 men are employed, and at the Chevrolet Motor and Fisher body plants at St. Louis, involving 3,100 workers.

A hopeful note appeared in the bituminous coal industry with President Roosevelt and Hugh S. Johnson, NRA chief, striving to end labor troubles. The President asked striking miners, numbering nearly 50,000, to return to work under a new wage structure announced by Johnson.

New Statements

Both sides in the rail wage controversy filed new statements before the public, each blaming the other for the discord. Roosevelt has suggested that the 10 per cent deduction from basic wages be extended six months longer.

The present agreement expires June 30. In the automobile industry, strikes already were in effect at tool and parts factories at Detroit and Toledo. The National Automobile Labor Board meets at Detroit today in a renewed effort to settle the differences.

Wage and union recognition question led to the Cleveland strike report, voted at a meeting of metal trades workers. The strike was ordered effective at 7 A. M. today.

The St. Louis strike, union leaders said, resulted from the refusal of the Chevrolet and Fisher companies to re-employ 118 men, most of whom had been active in union affairs.

At Wichita, Kan., about 125 union printers were on strike, handicapping publication of the city's three newspapers. The workers walked out at midnight Saturday after failing in negotiations for a new wage contract.

COAL TEAMSTERS OUT

Chicago, April 23—(AP)—Coal teamsters of Chicago, numbering upwards of 4,000, were called out on strike today as a protest against the efforts of State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney to break up their union.

The coal men are a local of the Chicago Teamsters' Union, an independent organization not affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. Courtney has attacked it in various ways, breaking up meetings and seizing records, alleging that the union was a racket organization and its leaders "out-laws."

The strike order was issued by David Reese, president, and word was passed along to all yard stewards. Within a few hours practically all the membership of the union was out and some 400 coal yards were idle.

Reese said that he hoped by his act to bring the whole subject before the Federal Labor Mediation Board.

Washington, April 23—(AP)—Dismissal of conspiracy charges against Lieut. Gov. Nelson G. Kruschel of Iowa in connection with that state's public works program was formally approved today by Joseph B. Keenan, Assistant Attorney General.

Keenan announced he had agreed to the suggestion of Robert W. Goldfish, United States District Attorney for Southern Iowa, to nolle prosequi the charges against Kruschel and Carleton D. Beh, Des Moines investment broker. Beh was acquitted recently on a forgery charge growing out of the Federal grand jury investigation of the Public Works Administration.

Kruschel formerly was Secretary of the Iowa Public Works advisory board and was removed from that position by Secretary Ickes last November.

The two men were charged with conspiring to defraud the government by hindering the functions of the National Industrial Recovery Act. The forgery count against Beh grew out of his alleged altering of an application by the City of Ottumwa, Iowa, for public works funds.

New Vaults in Treasury
Will be Impregnable
As Any in World

Washington, April 23—(AP)—Death by poison gas lurks in huge steel doors the government is setting in place on new vaults in the U. S. Treasury.

A super-burglar who by some miracle penetrated half way through the 30 inches of metal would die quickly and horribly in a cloud of gas generated by chemicals concealed in the doors.

The vaults—big enough to contain all the monetary gold stock in the country as well as huge treasures in silver, currency and securities—will be completed in September at a cost of $300,000.

Walls 27-in. Thick

They will form an impregnable a monetary fortress as any in the world. Walls are built of concrete and matted steel, 27 inches thick, lined with metal plates repurposed from tool or torch.

The latest thing in electrical burglar alarms and time locks with a maximum of 96 hours feature the vaults. In tunnels underneath, above and around the vaults guards patrol night and day.

The Federal Reserve vault in New York City, another super-modern gold fortress, has one feature the Treasury vaults lack. The Maryland money chambers are surrounded by a wall of ten water, so that if sappers bent on burglary tried to bore in, they would drown.

ABANDON HOPE
FOR 86 MINERS
IN YUGOSLAVIA
They Are Included in Death Estimate of 146 Made Today

SARAJEVO YUGOSLAVIA, April 23—

(AP)—Rescue workers abandoned all hope today of finding any survivors in the depths of the blast-wrecked Kakanj coal mines.
Officials included in a death estimate of 146 the 86 men still unaccounted for. Sixty bodies had been recovered. Fifteen miners escaped or were rescued.
It had been hoped some of the entombed men might be found in distant galleries, but when the bodies recovered last night were found to be charred and mutilated, rescue squads conceded the other men were trapped likewise and died almost instantly.
At Belgrade, an official investigating commission laid the explosion to "unusual quantities of methane gas."
So terrific was the explosion Saturday that peasants thought it was an earthquake.

Nocturnal Reflection on Capital's

Not all the picturesque beauty of Washington's famed cherry blossoms-in-bloom is to be seen by day. How nightfall emphasizes the loveliness of this much visited spot is strikingly illustrated in this photograph of the illuminated shaft of Washington monument as seen through a framework of blossoms on an opposite shore.

Boy Dies from Gun-
men's Bullet

Lincoln, Neb., April 23—(AP)—Twelve-year-old Lucien Marshall died early today from a gunman's bullet.

He was shot Friday during a fight between police and three desperadoes one of whom was killed and two captured.

County Attorney Max Towle said first degree murder charges would be filed against the gunmen, Walter Dean and Sam Rivette, ex-convicts from Texas, who have been implicated in a Bethany, Okla., bank robbery. Their slain companion, Aubrey Ray, also was a Texan and an ex-convict.

Lucien was walking from school with his twin sister at Twenty Fourth and O Streets when the Texans' car swept past, followed by a Lincoln police cruiser. Shots were being fired from both automobiles but witnesses said it was one from the gunmen's car which struck the lad.

BANK ROBBER
SUSPECT MAY BE BIGAMISTNauvoo Man, Held in Chicago, Doesn't Know About It

Chicago, April 23—(AP)—Police holding Robert Wilson, 32, for suspicion in a Nauvoo, Ill., bank robbery and for questioning in a number of holdups today studied the possibility of adding a charge of bigamy.

With him when he was captured here yesterday was a young woman named Eunice, 30 years old. Police were told she was Wilson's wife, but Nauvoo authorities said Wilson had a wife and four children there.

"I don't know whether we are married or not," Wilson told them. "I woke up after a three or four day drunk and found she was claiming to be my wife."

Eunice, held at the Detective Bureau, was more certain about it. "Of course we're married," she said, "and I can prove it."

The homicide squad today tested the guns found in Wilson's apartment, and said they would compare the bullets with those fired in recent holdup killings.

DEPARTED FRIENDS

THE dead friends live and always will. Their presence hovers round us still. It seems to me they come to share each joy or sorrow that we bear.

Among the living we can feel their sweet departed spirit steal. And whether it be weal or woe, We walk with those we used to know.

I can recall them to my side Whenever I am struggle-tied; I've but to wish for them, and they Come trooping gladly down the way.

Aw! I can tell to them my grief And from their presence find relief. In sacred memories below, Still live the friends of long ago.

—Edgar A. Guest.

Brussels.—(AP)—White is the favorite color of Astrid, new queen of the Belgians.

She invariably dresses her children in white and she herself is often seen in white during the summer.

In the royal palace here she has a white bedroom and boudoir and her entire suite at the royal villa in Ostend has walls and furniture painted white. White carpets and hangings are used, and even the flowers in the crystal bowls and vases have to be white.

Best Not to Argue With the Willful Child

The wise mother won't argue with a stubborn child. Olive Roberts Barton tells why in another of her interesting articles on Child Training.

By Olive Roberts Barton

Jimmy wants to take out his sled but his mother, thinking the snow is too thin, gets the kiddy-car. Jimmy is four years old.

He stamps and says, "No, I want my sled."

"But you can't have your sled. See?" She holds back the curtain. "Come and look. There is hardly any snow."

"I want my sled."

"The other children have no sleds. Oh, come on, look at the doggie on your kiddy-car. He wants a ride."

"No—I want—my—sled."

"All right. Take your sled you unreasonable little boy. I'll put your car back in the closet. There. Got hold of the rope? Now run along."

Jimmy hangs back.

"Now what is the matter? Why don't you go?"

"I don't want my sled."

"What! You just asked me to go out!"

"I want my kiddy car."

"Well you can't have it. You are just too naughty for anything. Go on now." She pushes him out and shuts the door.

A Battle Won

He sits down on the steps and howls. The other children gather around. "What's wrong, Jimmy?"

"I want my kiddy car, and Mama won't let me have it."

"She must be crazy," says Roger. "There ain't hardly any snow. You can't use your sled."

The door opens suddenly, the "crazy" one thrusts out the kiddy-car, hauls in the sled, and slams the door.

"Gee, she is mad," giggles Roger. Everybody stares at Jimmy. They are sure he will cry. It's terrible when a mama gets mad.

But Jimmy has a peculiar and self-satisfied look. He scrambles down off the steps and trundles away. He has won again. He is four years old. The age when "the little baby who was always so sweet before" becomes so suddenly such a naughty little boy. The age when "will" develops by setting itself up against other wills to pit its own strength and conquer if it can. The "self" impulse sending out experimental feelers and finding gratification.

What is she going to do about it? This is getting to be a rather regular thing. She can't give in always, and even if she does, he gets as contrary as a mule. He doesn't seem to have any reason at all.

Will Before Reason

It isn't the age of reason—not for years. What we call reason or judgment, takes its time about putting in an appearance. Nature is clever. She knows that she must develop will first or it may never have a chance once reason gets in its work. Later reason will tone it down to a certain extent.

If a mother realizes the forces at work she will try to keep personal indignation out of it, and cheerfully regard her son as a small boy, finding himself. She will learn not to make an issue of too many things and to settle as many difficulties as possible without words. She won't argue. He may have his own way often but of course not always. If she is clever she can reach him by the quick substitution of another impulse, the play impulse for instance. If she can turn his anger to a laugh or a sudden swift interest in another matter the incident will take care of itself.

At this stage a mother needs all her resourcefulness and patience.

Joan Says She Will Not Wed

Hollywood, April 23.—(AP)—Hollywood gossips who talked of a marriage of Joan Crawford and Franchot Tone after her divorce from Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., becomes final on May 13, decided today it might not happen after all.

The principal factor in the decision was the declaration of the actress that as long as she was in pictures she would not wed and she has no intention of abandoning her career.

Talk of a marriage of Miss Crawford and her leading man grew after they traveled east last year on the same train and Tone admitted he had proposed. Miss Crawford said she thought it was a mistake for an actress to marry.

Miss Dorothy Whitcombe Is Married

Miss Dorothy Whitcombe and Clarence Leon Clarke were united in marriage Friday, April 20th, at Winnetka, Ill.

The bride is the daughter of the late Reverend A. B. Whitcombe, rector of St. Peter's church at Grand Detour, the family residing there for several years after leaving Dixon. Since Rev. Whitcombe's death, Mrs. Whitcombe and children have been living in Chicago. Possible Paintings Suggested; Of Ill. Scenery Beautiful and historical spots in DuPage, Kane, Ogle, Jo Daviess, Rock Island, Lee, Hancock, St. Clair, Menard, Woodford, LaSalle, Kendall and Cook counties are illustrated in a series of twenty-six paintings now on display at the travel and outing bureau of the Chicago Motor Club.

Bert Vanderwarf, manager of the bureau, says: "From the number of visitors viewing these paintings, we expect to see an increased interest in motor travel in Illinois. The paintings now on exhibition, however, represent only a small fraction of the interesting places in Illinois, and it is the aim of Lane K. Newberry, the artist who has this work on display, to paint as many of the scenic spots in Illinois as he possibly can."

Mr. Newberry is asking now for suggestions on places throughout the state that may be of interest to the general public. Those who believe they know of a good spot that would make a painting are urged to send their suggestions to Mr. Newberry in care of Mr. Vanderwarf of the Chicago Motor Club. According to Mr. Vanderwarf, if Mr. Newberry should be unable to make the painting, nevertheless the publication of the Chicago Motor Club, "Motor News," which reaches some 60,000 motorists, members of the club, will carry article on the spots suggested as possibilities for paintings.

Helpful Hints For Housewives

TAKE OUT GREASE SPOTS WITH POWDERED CHALK

To remove oil or grease spots, the chalk remain for an hour or so, then brush off. For candle grease—scrape off with a blunt instrument. Place a piece of blotting paper or soft brown paper over the spot. Rub gently with a warm iron, moving the paper so as to carry off the grease. Do not have iron very hot. And do not use much pressure or the grease will sink down instead of coming out.

Nut Meats Removed

The task of removing nuts from their shells may be simplified by pouring boiling water over them and allowing them to soak during the night. Next morning the nut meats may be removed easily.

Freshening Canned Fruit

Fruits from tins should be opened two hours or so before using and poured immediately into a dish. Oxygen absorbed by the fruit will add richness to it.

How to Make Rich Shortcake

Two layers of biscuit dough, rolled out very thin, make the best shortcake. Use more butter than usual and be sure that the dough is very thinly spread in separate tins. After the dough is cooked, spread each layer with butter to increase its richness. Then place the berries on the lower layer, put the second layer on top and add more berries.

Kitchen Hints

For hot potato salad heat the French dressing. A cold dressing makes the salad neither hot nor cold.

Black currant jelly stirred in hot water may ease an annoying cough.

Small pieces of celery rolled up in bread make tasty sandwiches.

A piece of sweet geranium leaf placed in grape jelly while it is cooking adds flavor.

Pressed dates or figs covered with sugar can be prepared at home for tea parties.

Cheese grated into the afternoon tea biscuits makes them delicious.

Add a few drops of vinegar to water if salad leaves become wilted. This will freshen them.

Judge's Widow to Direct Campaign in Carroll County

Mount Carroll, Ill., April 23.—No lawyer, but the wife of one for 29 years, Mrs. Harriet N. Connell today began in earnest her campaign for election to the county bench.

She was nominated by the Democratic ticket after her husband John R. Connell, had collapsed and died speaking in the interests of his own candidacy for the office before the primaries.

Leaders of the Democratic party obtained her permission to ask that her name be written in on the ballot and she was victorious.

Mrs. Connell believes, she said, that she will win. She also thinks that her knowledge of her husband's business as a county seat lawyer for 29 years has furnished her with a background that will serve her admirably in the conduct of the bench. The Illinois law does not require judges to be members of the bar.

Mrs. Connell is best known in her community as a playwright and director of amateur theatrical productions. Fourteen of her three-act plays have been published. Many of them she has staged with Little Theater groups in northwest Illinois.

If Mrs. Connell is elected, she will be the first woman judge of Carroll county and the second woman to hold a county office.

"I think I'm capable of filling the office of County Judge, and I'm going to make a fight for it," she said. "I'm cooperating with Democratic party leaders and I shouldn't be surprised if success came my way."

Desserts

Desserts add a pleasing touch to round out the meal. And certain dishes are high in food value. The fruits, for example, are excellent. Fresh fruit, either raw or cooked, and cooked dried fruit such as figs, raisins, prunes, and apricots could be used more to good advantage.

The desserts made with milk are of course among the leaders. These are custard, junket, rice pudding, and the like. Fruit jams and jellies are less desirable but not to be wholly condemned. The chief objection is the large amounts of sugar they contain. Cakes and cookies in which eggs and milk are used freely can be classed as good foods but like all sweets their proper place is at the end of the meal, a meal which has included the essential health foods in proper amounts

SMOKE IN OUR EYES?

Primarily because it would deprive thousands of men of their jobs on our roads and highways, motorists, highway users, laborers, farmers, business men, county and municipal executives, legislators and many educators and school authorities are bitterly opposed to the Governor's pet measure to divert gasoline taxes to school relief.

Only the Governor and his professional whp-crackers are lusty in its support. Yet the leader of the Governor's own political party, President Roosevelt, has repeatedly advocated stimulation of the construction industry as the very basis of the New Deal. Certainly diversion of highway funds which the Governor advocates would defeat
the particular objective of the President.

There have been so many back-fires started in this controversy and so much rubbish thrown on the flames that if we are mistaken in viewing the Governor's policy in direct opposition to the President's, perhaps smoke got in our eyes.

Certain it is that the gas tax is a juicy plum for those predatorily inclined, it is ready money, paid cheerfully by the motorist under the impression that it is really a service charge for his use of improved roads and highways.
The amount and availability of it make it an enviable prize.

Is it possible that state administration leaders are eyeing this ripe plum which they can grab for patronage under the guise of assisting the school teachers? Diversion of gas tax money means that the state will buy less cement and that means that Dixon cement mill workers will have less work.

MORE SOVIET BUSINESS.

The first dollars and cents fruits of Russian recognition are beginning to be reaped by American business men, according to figures just issued by the U. S. Commerce Department.

American exports to Russia during February, it develops, totaled just less than $1,500,000—which may not be an unusually high figure, as exports go, but which compares very favorably with $321,000 in January, and which is nearly three times the sum recorded for February, 1933.

Not all this increase, of course, is due to government recognition of Russia. Part of it undoubtedly reflects the general rise in business conditions.

But there is, nevertheless, justification for the belief that recognition is ultimately going to mean more dollars in the pockets of American manufacturers.

PRESIDENTIAL APPROVAL.

The President's letter to Senator Fletcher indorsing the pending stock exchange control bill at least ends the uncertainty about the administration's attitude toward this measure.

That uncertainty had become a large and a rather difficult factor in the situation. There were rumors that the President's official family was divided as to wisdom of the measure.

Its friends in Congress seemed loath to make a determined fight for it until they knew whether there was any truth in the report that Mr. Roosevelt would be content with a greatly weakened bill.

Now they know. The President wants teeth in the bill, and plenty of them. Whether or not he gets what he wants, at least the cloud of uncertainty has been dispelled.

OUR MONEY'S WORTH.

A public which is somewhat confused by the charges and countercharges that have been made in connection with the airmail imbroglio will probably be ready to agree wholeheartedly with Gen. William Mitchell's demand that the government at least make sure that it gets full value for the money it spends on its aviation.

"If the government is going to spend money on aviation in the interest of private lines," says the doughty general,
"it should see to it that real results are obtained and that the money is not used for gambling by speculators."

This government spends annually enough money to have the finest military and civilian air forces on earth. Let's hope that the present row will induce it to make certain that it gets what it is paying for.

If American teachers are sissies it is not from choice.
They have become sissified in conformity to the public demand that they act in a way which is too good to be true.

"This broom that holds you little Timmyties has had a lot of funny flights," said Mother Goose.
"I guess that I have traveled almost everywhere."

"It is a magic broom, you see.
It is always glad to carry me. All I need do is hop aboard to get a trip through the air."

Then Coppy said, "Well, just where are we bound for now? Is it real far, and will we meet strange little folks we have never met before?"

"Of course you know we love
to play with real nice friends all throughout the day. We have often met strange people, but we are ready for some more."

"Don't worry, lad," said Mother Goose. "Not far from here I will turn you loose, and then you will get a lot of thrills. I'm positive of that."

Just then wee Duncy shouted,
"Hey! This must be my unlucky day. A great big puff of wind came by and carried off my hat."

"Old Mother Goose cried, "Dear
oh dear! Why, I can see your hat from here. It is falling toward the earth, but we will catch it ere it lands."

The big broom then swooped toward the ground, and suddenly it swerved around. "We are coming close," cried Goldy. "Everyone hold out his hands."

Soon little Scouty reached right out and grabbed the hat. Then came a shout from all the other Tinies. "You are a clever lad," said one.

No more did the big broom sail around. Instead, it landed on the ground. "All hop off," cried old Mother Goose. "We are ready for some fun."

"Just look ahead! You will see a gate," The Tinies did, and one cried, "Great! The sign reads
"Mother Goose Land." Gee! Can we all go inside?"

"Of course you can," came the reply. "I planned on coming here That's why I picked you all up in the air and took you for a long ride."

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

Press interview with Mrs. Ida B.
Wise Smith, National President of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

At the request of one of the large national press associations
Mrs. Smith gave out the following keen analysis of the present situation in the country:

The wets won in 1933 largely by asserting that when repeal would have been secured (1) lawlessness would cease; (2) drunkenness decrease; (3) crime lose its glamour;
(4) liquor revenue balance the budget; (5) the saloon be abolished; and (6) the liquor traffic would take its place as a sound, legitimate industry, no longer in politics or allied with corruption.
What has happened? Let us consider these claims in reverse
order:

1. The legalized liquor traffic, politically-active, has re-organized in multiple, interlocking associations and more than a billion dollars of the people's purchasing power has already been diverted to beverage alcohol from necessities and wholesome luxuries.

2. The saloon is back in more dangerous guise, while, forced by trade coercion, thousands of shops and restaurants, cafeterias and hotels are also selling intoxicants.

3. Repeal has created a sales class of thousands of young men and women whose lives and livelihood henceforth are dependent upon their individual success in multiplying new drink victims.

4. A $20,000,000 liquor advertising program carries its own commentary.

5. Federal revenue from drink so far, indicates a total for the year of less than 25 percent of wet predictions.

6. A steady increase of liquor-induced crime is reflected daily in our press. Gambling, commercialized vice and white slavery in national-wide proportions are now in evidence, directly related to the liquor traffic return.

7. Automobile accidents have multiplied, official U. S. government figures from 86 cities showing an increase of motor death rate from 19 to 23 per 100,000 population for the four-week period ending Feb. 17 as compared with 1933.

8. Returns show startling increase in arrests for drunkenness
in many cities, among them Boston, Washington, Denver, Los Angeles, while in others, attempts are evident to conceal the facts under the term "disorderly conduct, etc."

9. Defiance of law again marks the liquor traffic's development,
and thousands of communities,
dry by popular vote, are now being invaded by the traffic's high pressure solicitation.

In the light of these facts it is more significant than strange that the erstwhile leaders of the "repeal" fight, the AAPA, the NML, the WOFNPR have vanished from the scene, and the "Crusaders," once so aggressive, have turned their efforts into another and less embarrassing field of activity.

"BUILDING A LIFE"

Our life has length, breadth, depth and height.
Our life is as broad as our intellectual interests.
Our life is as deep as our convictions.

Our life is like the great tree with roots. It is not dangerous to grow big so long as we grow deep.
Our life is a relation to ourselves,
to others and to God.
Our life may be shortened by bad habits; this determines to a certain extent the length of our lives.

Belief is what a man holds, but

Living Our Everyday Lives

THE MAGIC OF MEMORY

Dr. Joseph Fort Newton

A friend of mine, a naturalist, is fond of rambling in rural England.
No wonder. It is so beautiful—like a neat, well-kept park. He loves the tiny villages, tucked away in the fold of the hills, where life runs along so quietly untroubled
by the big world.

Once, in a Wiltshire Village, he had a strange experience. As soon as he entered the village he had a feeling that he had been there before. He knew he had not, and it puzzled him. Unable to account for the odd impression, he started on his way.

But something stopped him, haunted him. Fascinated by the spell of the place he sat down to ponder. Maybe, he thought, they are right who say that we live on this earth more than once, and that at some time he had lived in that village. He wondered.

Just then the village church bell rang, and its mellow tones echoed down the valley—giving a tongue to time and a voice to eternity. In a flash it dawned upon him that the village, in spite of real differences, was very like the town in which he had been brought up. An unconscious memory, made vivid by the church bell.

The deepest thing in us is memory. We may not be able to recollect, but we never really forget. All that we have ever thought, said, done, suffered, enjoyed, wished,
dreamed or experienced is hidden away in us, docketed and stored safely in a fire-proof, thief-proof strong room of our unconscious memory. Nothing is lost.

At any moment a sound, a scent,
a sight may bring up things deeply buried in us, which we think are forgotten. Many of our thoughts are only unconscious memories. So are our dreams, in which days gone by run through the mind like motion-picture reel.

If ever there is a judgment day,
what is minutely and accurately recorded for or against us in our unforgetting memory, will be evidence enough. We cannot dodge; it will do no good to lie. There is the record, letter-perfect, as we ourselves have made it.

Daily Health Talk

ANESTHETICS AND NARCOTICS

Anesthetics and narcotics are a blessing to mankind. They spare us endless torture and render possible modern surgery, which in the century since its origin and development has saved thousands of lives.

Today we have many kinds of anesthetics and many varieties of narcotics. We know much about the different effects that can be obtained through the use of different anesthetics, singly, in combination, or in series. And yet fundamentally, we lack essential knowledge as to how and why narcotics and anesthetics render us insensible to pain.

Originally it was thought that prolonged inhalation of anesthetics such as chloroform and ether produced certain constitutional changes in the brain cells and that these changes accounted for insensibility and unconsciousness. Later, it was found that in addition there were modifications in the vital activities of the cells of the nervous system. This was witnessed in their decreased utilization of oxygen and in their decreased resistance to the passage of electrical currents.

More important, however, is the finding that anesthetics and narcotics not only affect the nerve cells and the brain, but all other tissues as well, though not necessarily. Narcotics and anesthetics apparently have the ability to dampen and to retard essential vital cell functions. If enough anesthetic is administered to a living thing, death can be produced. This is true of all living substances, vegetable as well as animal.

An apple, a living thing which previously was breathing, taking in oxygen and giving off carbon dioxide, was affected by a narcotic in an experiment. If enough of it is introduced, the apple's respiration ceases, it shrivels, turns brown and soon rots.

The problem of how anesthetics achieve their results is not yet completely solved, but this better

Berbers' Property Ownership

So unusual is the conception of property ownership among the Berbers that the wealthiest members of society frequently have title to the trunk of a fig tree, while another owns its fruit-bearing branches.

WARNEKE STARS AGAIN AGAINST THE CARDINALS

Held Frisch's Boys to Single Hit: Cubs Take League Lead

Those who predicted the Chicago Cubs would have to rely upon their tremendous slugging power to get into the National League pennant race evidently overlooked Lonnie Warneke, the tall right hander from Mt. Ida, Ark.

He has pitched two games so far this season, won them both and allowed only two hits, one each to Cincinnati and St. Louis.

Following up his opening day performance against the Reds, Warneke turned in the same feat against the Cardinals yesterday as the Cubs won the weirdest kind of game by a 15 to 2 score. The only blow Lonnie allowed was a double by Jim Collins in the fifth which led to the two St. Louis runs.

It followed a walk to Spud Davis; then a passed ball let Davis score and Collins reach third. Jim the ripper tallied after Gene Moore's fly.

Meanwhile, the Cubs rapped the brothers Dean, Dizzy and Paul, and Jim Vnator and Clarence Heise, for 22 hits, including Chuck Klein's third homer and one by Gabby Hartnett.

The victory gave the Cubs the league lead, as the champion Giants suffered their season's first setback at the hands of the Braves.

The score was 6-3 as Boston rapped Freddy Fitzsimmons freely and held onto its lead after Homer Peel hit a pinch homer in the ninth.

The Brooklyn Dodgers handed the Phillies their sixth straight defeat, 7 to 5, collecting their winning runs on a four-run outburst against George Darrow in the eighth. The Pirates nosed out Cincinnati 5-4 in the other National League contest.

A crowd, rather than any particular game, furnished the American League feature. The Boston Red Sox, who have been gunning for attendance records ever since the season started, drew a paid attendance of 44,631 to Fenway Park to see them take an 8 to 1 licking from the Yankees and Lefty Gomez.

Some 6,000 more were turned away as the Sox had reached a new mark of 145,000 for six home games.

The champion Washington Senators, finally found a finger who could go the route and defeated the Athletics 4 to 3 behind Al Thomas. The first Sunday game in Philadelphia drew a 20,000 crowd, which saw Thomas outpitch Roy Mahaffey.

Fine relief hurling by Buck Newsom, who granted only two hits in 6 2-3 innings, helped the Browns beat the White Sox 6 to 5.

The Detroit-Cleveland contest was halted by rain.

ODDS ON DERBY HORSES CHANGE OVER WEEK END

Showing of Candidates Causes Alteration by Commissioner

New York, Apr. 23—(AP)—The Kentucky Derby, so far as the east and far west are concerned, had taken on a different hue today following week-end developments which saw two eastern horses strengthen their ratings in the future book.

Discovery, the son of the temperamental Display, for which youthful Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt paid $20,000 last fall, was rated at 10 to 1, a decline of 10 points within a week. The odds on John Sirvint's Sgt. Byrne fell to 30 to 1, while those on Norman Church's highly regarded Riskulus, son of Stimulus, soared to 30 to 1, and those on William Woodward's Reverse to 50 to 1. The prices were quoted by Tom Shaw, New York betting commissioner.

Discovery Shows Speed Coming directly from the Sagamore Farm in Maryland where there had been rumors of his tremendous speed, Discovery electrified a crowd of 25,000 at Havre de Grace Saturday, when he stepped a mile in 1:37 4-5, with his full Derby weight up. The time was a full second faster than the track record.

"If he can hold that speed, he'll be the horse to beat in the Derby," said Trainer Bud Stotler after the workout.

As yet just to show his confidence, Stotler is said to have spread $600 across the board only a few days ago when the colt was still being quoted at 20 to 1.

Sgt. Byrne's price tumbled after his 1:11 3-5 six furlongs in winning the Pumonok Handicap at the Jamaica opening. True the race was only a sprint but his young trainer Jimmy Ritchie, is confident he can go the full Derby route of a mile and a quarter. Sgt. Byrne will be shipped to Churchill Down this week to complete his training there.

Reverse Disappointing Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, trainer of Reverse, was not so hot on Woodward's colt following his dismal showing in a six furlong dash at the opening of the New York season. The race was won by Marshall Field's highly regarded Derby eligible, Gentle Knight.

"Reverse sure did disappoint me," said Fitzsimmons, "but I plan to keep on running him and if he shows good form, he'll go to the Derby post."

Shaw continued to hold Mata Hari and Sir Thomas as the split favorites at 7 to 1, while quoting Cavalcade at 10 to 1. Bazaar at 12 to 1, Fogbound at 25 to 1 and Collateral and Spy Hill, which was to make his 1934 debut at Jamaica today at 30 to 1.

CANDIDATES IN ACTION SATURDAY

(By The Associated Press.) Sgt. Byrne (John Simonetti) won Pumonok Handicap over six furlongs at Jamaica, Time 1:11 3-5. Gentle Knight (Marshall Field) won six furlong dash in 1:12 3-5 at Jamaica.

Reverse (William Woodward) — Ran last in race won by Gentle Knight.

Riskulus (Norman Church) — Finished third in Texas Derby at Arlington Downs.

Money Getter (W. T. Waggoner) and Bender First (John Bender) — Also ran in Texas Derby.

FATAL RIOTING IN SPAIN LEADS TO NEW CRISIS

Cabinet Split Is Feared as Disorders Mark the Week End

Madrid, April 23—(AP)—Rumors of a cabinet crisis flew in Madrid today on the heels of rioting in which two were slain and at least eleven persons wounded.

Government leaders came and went in an endless procession to and from the presidential palace. A cabinet split was feared, with the possibility of resignations.

Spain's famous assault guards patrolled the streets where yesterday anti-Fascists and extremists battled opponents and authorities in a series of bitter clashes.

The extremists launched their Sunday reign of terror in a violent show of opposition to 40,000 Catholic youths meeting in nearby El Escorial to demonstrate their loyalty to the popular Agrarian party. The storm broke despite elaborate precautionary measures by the government. Guards did succeed in preventing disorders at El Escorial—an enclosure combining a convent, a church, a palace and a mausoleum and located on a mountain 31 miles from the Capital. Bombs boomed in Madrid and the suburbs, however, and bands of extremists who had sworn to prevent the El Escorial rally—clashed throughout the city with police and guards.

Stray bullets killed a child when extremists and guards fought in suburban Zalcaes. An extremist fell mortally wounded in an encounter at Madrid's Puerto del Sol.

Music Reveals the Soul Music has this peculiarity that, symbolizing by rhythm and sound the very movements of the soul—when it produces emotion, it produces precisely what it symbolizes.

NEWS CHURCHES

BRETHREN CHURCH

All services at the Brethren church were well attended yesterday and a fine spirit prevailed. If we can have as many at Sunday school next Sunday as we had yesterday we will make the month of April a banner month also. Class teachers and officers and many members will be doing all they can that we may go over the top.

A very interesting program was presented last night by fifteen people on the subject of "The Marks of a Christian," to a full house. The delegation from the West Branch Brethren church and their special numbers in music added much inspiration to the service.

There will be a reception for those who have recently been received into the church Wednesday night in the church parlors. All members and friends of the church are invited to attend. Cake and fruit salad will be served, as well as refreshments. The pastor will speak on the subject of "The Joy of Being a Christian."

The Ladies Aid Society will meet at the church Thursday afternoon. There will be work for all who wish to attend.

The Girls' Sewing Club will meet at the parsonage Friday night. There will be some important business and a good attendance is desired.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Probation After Death" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 29.

The Golden Text was, "I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die" (John 11:25, 26).

Among the Lessons which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me" (Psalms 23:1, 4).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Either here or hereafter, suffering or Science must destroy all illusions regarding life and mind, and regenerate material sense and self. . . . Mortal belief must lose all satisfaction in error and sin in order to part with them. Whether mortals will learn this sooner or later, and how long they will suffer the pangs of destruction, depends upon the tenacity of error" (p. 290).

CHRISTIAN CHURCH ITEMS

Dr. Holley gave a fine talk to the school at the close of the lesson period. In connection, he read a considerable portion of the book of Ecclesiastes from memory. His lecture-recitals at the First M. E. church the past two weeks have been greatly enjoyed. They will result in a deeper interest in Bible reading.

The Bible School Workers Conference will be held at the home of Frank Cunningham, 2905 West Second Street, Tuesday evening. The Priolha Class will meet at the home of the teacher, Miss Leone Ort, 402 Monroe Ave., on Tuesday evening for play "try-outs."

All day meeting of the Ladies Aid Society Wednesday.

The executive committee of the W. M. S. will meet at the church on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30. Plans for Wednesday evening at 7:30. The first two chapters of II Timothy will be the Bible lesson.

There will be a meeting of the Education Board following prayer meeting.

The True Blue class will hold their monthly meeting and social at the home of Mrs. J. E. Newcomb, 122 East 4th street, Thursday evening at 7:30.

POLO REMAINS WET DESPITE RECENT POLL

State's Attorney General Rules Election was Illegal

At least one northern Illinois community which voted dry at the primary election on April 19 remained wet today following a ruling by Attorney General Otto Kernner that the local option was illegal.

Although Buffalo township in Cook county embraces the incorporated village of Polo, voters in the township voted to ban the sale of liquor in the township by a plurality of 70 votes, the Attorney General ruled that the vote in the entire township on the liquor issue was invalid because voters in the village of Polo were allowed to ballot on the proposition. As a result, liquor sellers in the entire township continued to operate today.

The state law provides, he ruled, that incorporated villages and townships shall vote as separate units on local option. Although Buffalo township petitioned to vote on liquor, no such petition was presented in Polo which was voted dry without ever having asked for a vote on the question, the Attorney General ruled in effect.

HULL DEFENDED ADMINISTRATION AT AP LUNCHEON

Says Roosevelt's Policy is of "Sound Liberalism"

New York, Apr. 23—(AP)—Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, today named a middle-course recovery policy of "sound liberalism" as the "very essence of the new deal."

Standing before publishers and others gathered at the annual luncheon of The Associated Press, Hull tossed aside talk of dictatorship. "The Roosevelt 'rehabilitation' program," he said, would preserve "all the fundamentals of popular government."

"It is never wise," said Hull, "especially in a time of crisis, to hear too much to the extreme reactionary or the extreme radical x x x."

"We enthroned no dictators. We made no secret trades with private, self-interest groups — we merely drew together the democracy and scattered groups of different and openly discussed, openly chosen."

The tall, soft-spoken Secretary of State expressed confidence that what he called Roosevelt's middle course between extremes would result in "recovery, restoration and rehabilitation which would embrace the rights and liberties of the individual and the progressive improvement of the social and material condition of the masses."

Free Press Valuable

In discussing matters of the press, Hull declared the service given by a free press was of "incalculable value."

The gathering and dissemination of news along "right lines," he added, constituted a "powerful influence for international understanding, friendship and peace."

"The most serious threats against peace today," he said, "are in those parts of the world where the press is controlled by government officials who have power either to declare or to force war."

Most of the diplomatic chieftains' address centered upon the Roosevelt administration's aims and hopes, and the pitfalls it hoped to avoid.

Recovery Objectives

Among the recovery objectives named by him were preservation of the national credit, balancing of the budget as early as is practicable, avoidance of schemes of inflation, permanent exchange stabilization, and monetary arrangements, restoration of American foreign trade, relief of unemployment and general improvement in working conditions and wages, and "necessary" governmental regulation for the general improvement of business, commerce and agriculture.

"It is my profound conviction," Hull declared, "that the administration of President Roosevelt is conscientiously, ably, and patriotically grappling with the terrific problems of recovery, and that its fairness and its friendly interest can be absolutely depended upon by industry, by agriculture, by mining and by labor."

"This administration x x x is entitled to the confidence and cooperation of the country. The vast work of restoration will be long, tedious and technical. It will tax the patience of the most patient person. It requires a degree of energy, ingenuity and constructive capacity far beyond the demands of wartime."

Unprecedented Chaos

"Many of the chaotic conditions through which we have been passing are unprecedented in their nature and extent. The federal administration has pursued the wisest possible course in attempting their solution."

"The Roosevelt recovery program was deliberately designed, Hull explained, to meet two urgent objectives—the immediate crisis this nation faced at the moment, and durable prosperity in the future."

"No one wishes a mere temporary or short-lived recovery by just emergency methods," he said, "and no one wishes to pursue some distant ideal that would be inconsistent with the vital necessity of immediate recovery. The present administration has moved in as practicable a manner as possible to correct chaotic conditions, calling for both emergency and permanent treatment."

Americans want recovery based on sound policies and honest methods, Hull contended, and not by such artificial measures as brought the 1926 boom, and the "inevitable disaster of 1929" in its wake.

"We can and should effect economic and social rehabilitation," he said, "to the extent dictated by

BEGIN HERE TODAY

PABLITO, a handsome youth accused of a murder he did not commit, escapes from key West to Havana with two thieves, BEAT and LOTTIE, in Havana, under the name of "Juanito," he becomes celebrated as a boxer and he and Beau open a symposium.

Pablito loves ESTELLE FIELD, daughter of rich Jim Field, and she loves him. They meet and plan to marry, but Field breaks up the affair, taking Estelle away. Two years later she becomes engaged to ALFRED DAVID.

SIR AUBREY, titled Englishman and Pablito's father, has been searching for his son, employing BILLINGS, New York detective.

Estelle asks Lottie to marry him. Field loses his fortune and Estelle breaks his engagement to him. She and her father return to Havana. MARCIA TREADAWAY, who knows Pablito is innocent of the murder charge, at last tells the truth, clearing him.

NORRIS FOYER, who befriended Pablito as a child, comes to see him NOW CHAPTER XLVII

CHAPTER XLVII

PABLITO wrote Estelle, telling her bluntly that he was engaged to Lottie Hines, who had long been associated with him and Beau in their work. He would not add a word beyond the truth which stood out harshly on the page.

After he had finished the letter he dropped his head for a little time to feel the cool paper against his neck. Then, quite steadily, he sealed and addressed the envelope. As he sent it off he felt the part of his life he finished.

"Life, an experiment," he remembered reading somewhere, "to which we are, by birth, committed."

He found things a little easier after he had mailed the letter. The door was shut and no longer swinging enticingly to tempt him to turn traitor.

He watched the progress of his new home with stolid disinterest. He and Noyes often went for long motor trips into the country. He sold some property at a profit and bought some, changed some bonds and lost a good sum thereby. Eating, sleeping, walking, driving, he was always striving with feverish eagerness to keep his waking hours filled to overflowing. This was the experiment to which he was committed; this was the experiment called life.

"Do you realize," Noyes said a month after Pablito had written the letter to Estelle, "that you can go anywhere you like now, since Miss Treadway made her statement to the police and Beau's running away has been accepted as a confession?"

Pablito smiled. Go where he liked? He was a prisoner in the experiment. He was still smiling as he said, "I can take trains and boats anywhere. I know that. I suppose," he added slowly, "that that is something."

AP MEMBERSHIP IS LARGEST IN ITS EXISTENCE

1315 Newspapers Cooperate to Make Service Very Best

New York, April 23.—(AP)—The largest membership in its history—1315 cooperating newspapers—was reported to the annual meeting today of The Associated Press.

Members of the organization heard the report of Kent Cooper, General Manager, outlining the year's endeavors, voted on five members of the board of directors, and prepared to hear Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, a principal speaker at the annual luncheon.

Frank B. Noyes, president who presided at the luncheon, and who gave the annual toast to the President of the United States, also spoke briefly on the freedom of the press.

"We believe," said Mr. Noyes, prepared address, "not only that the constitutional right of the free press should be scrupulously guarded, but, beyond that, that the collection and distribution of the news should be equally scrupulously guarded that it shall not fall into the hands of special interests, whether capitalistic or Communistic, but shall remain unbiased. That is our trusteeship, and, God permitting, we will honor it."

In his toast to President Roosevelt, Mr. Noyes recalled a phrase from a presidential nominating speech which stuck in his memory, and is:

Is "Happy Warrior"
"The speaker characterized his candidate as a 'happy warrior,' and to this day I can invent no more apt description of the man I have in mind—the orator who was then describing another man—than is contained in these two words—the 'Happy Warrior,' who today in a world perplexed beyond words in meeting problems that are anguishing troubled peoples, still maintains a gallant and unperturbed front and meets his problems with undiminished optimism."

General Manager Cooper, in his report, said, "My own conception of The Associated Press is that its task is such a big one that whatever it does should be done on a scale that leaves no doubt anywhere that its form of organization is highly effective, the loyalty of its members to it unquestioned, and the ability of its staff fully equal to the demands upon it."

Big A. P. Staffs
He recalled that at one time a staff of ten or twelve men covered a national convention. Such a staff, however, he said, could not tell member newspapers throughout the entire country what was going on in their respective state delegations.

"Accordingly, at the national conventions in 1928, the first since this management was installed, there were sixty-five men and women assigned to the job. In 1932 there were seventy-five."

He also told of the increase of the Washington staff to sixty-five through which "every state and regional news development which has an action or an echo in Washington is watched."

Mr. Cooper reviewed the activities in the various departments, noting that "the foreign service had one of the biggest news years since the World War," and that the news photo service continued its progress, finishing the year with a larger number of participating members than ever before, and operating on a world-wide scale."

Roosevelt Plans Cruise to Hawaii on New Warship

A cruise of more than 7000 miles and return is planned by President Roosevelt to start late in June, over the route pictured in the map, starting at Annapolis, going to the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico, thence through the Panama Canal and across the Pacific to Honolulu. The navy's new 10,000-ton cruiser U. S. S. Indianapolis, shown here, is the president's likely choice, for the trip.

GEN. JOHNSON GRANTS APPEAL OF MINE OWNERS

Alabama Coal Operators' Threat of "War" Brings Order

Washington, April 23.—(AP)—Work whistles summoned almost 50,000 striking coal miners back to the bituminous pits today.

This sharp signal blew because of new wage structure for soft coal industry and President Roosevelt's guarantee of protection for the south's traditional wage differentials.

Acting to end three weeks of strikes and violence, Hugh S. Johnson, NRA chief, issued an executive order last night modifying the wage scale he had approved on March 31 for the bituminous coal industry.

The new order left the seven-hour day intact for all pits but restored the differential of Alabama operators who had threatened a "civil war" in the coal fields rather than pay the higher scale.

One Appeal Denied
Johnson denied, however, the appeal of northern West Virginia operators for restoration of their 24-cent wage differential over the Pittsburgh area and boosted their piece-rates for loading and cutting coal.

Under the new wage set-up completed after days of protracted conferences, Alabama operators will pay their miners a basic daily wage of $3.80 instead of the $4.60 rate originally prescribed. Prior to

April 1, the basic wage in this region was $3.40.

In the southwestern district, the rate will be $4.35 a day, an increase of 60 cents over the minimum fixed in the code and a reduction of 25 cents from that ordered in the March 31 amendment. Southern Tennessee's new rate is $4.24 a day, an increase of 40 cents over the code minimum and 20 cents less than the amendment rate.

The sap of a certain variety, when fermented, yields a beverage resembling cider, the Mexican pulque. By distillation it yields two intoxicating liquors widely used in Mexico—mescal and tequila. The leaves are used for feeding cattle; the fibers of the leaves (called pits, sisal hemp or henequen) are formed into thread, cord and ropes. The leaves, roasted, were formerly used for food by the Indians.

In the warmer parts of Europe the American aloe is cultivated as an object of considerable utility. Plants are set in rows as hedges or fences, especially in Spain, Portugal and Italy. In some parts the leaves are employed for scouring pewter, kitchen utensils, and floors.

The accepted notion that the agave does not bloom until it is one hundred years old is erroneous. Its flowering entirely depends on the rapidity of its growth. In hot countries it will flower in a few years; but in colder climates, the growth being slower, it is longer in arriving at maturity.

The stem of the century plant which bears the blossoms, rises from the center of the leaves and when the plant is in a vigorous state it frequently exceeds the height of 20 feet.

LABOR COURT IS NEWEST PLAN OF THE PRESIDENT

Revision of Wagner Bill Being Made by Committee

Washington, April 23.—(AP)—President Roosevelt moved today to strike a death blow at labor controversies troubling the government nerve centers.

Forced to take over personally another industrial dispute, the railroad wage controversy, he feels that the time has come for establishment of a permanent court to settle the many labor disputes.

Acting in advance of most Capital expectations, Roosevelt was disclosed to have a committee already quietly at work on revision of the Wagner Labor Board bill.

Changes are being made in the set-up of the proposed permanent labor board. Members of the committee said its powers are being strengthened, rather than weakened.

Attention also is being directed to the "unfair labor practices," as outlined in the Wagner measure. These drew most of the criticism aimed at the measure in recent Senate hearings.

Committee Named

Those appointed by the Chief Executive to whip the measure into shape acceptable both to the White House and Congress include Secretary Perkins, Hugh S. Johnson, Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins, Donald Richberg, NRA counsel and Senator Wagner (D. N. Y.) author of the bill.

The group has been working secretly on the bill since last Friday when a White House conference was held on the legislation.

The issue was brought to a head by the retirement of Joseph B. Eastman, rail coordinator, Saturday as special umpire in the railroad wage argument.

Railway managers and labor leaders each blame the others for failure to reach a decision. Both have placed their cases before the bar of public opinion.

Eastman stepped aside definitely when the labor heads refused to accept the president's proposal for a six months' extension beyond July of the existing 10 per cent deduction agreement.

Since enactment of some form of labor board bill would take weeks at best, Roosevelt is seriously considering appointment of a special commission of inquiry to determine the facts.

A strange contrast of chaos and calm, this striking picture shows the ruins of the colorful Norwegian village Tafford after thousands of tons of rocks, crashing from the mountain sides into the deep waters of the fjord below, caused a tidal wave in which more than 40 men, women and children perished as they slept.
